

BRIDEGROOM MATINS

BRIDEGROOM MATINS

Bridegroom Matins is a service specific to the first four evenings of Holy Week and commemorates the last days in the earthly life of the Lord. Incorporated into these services is the theme of the first three days of Holy Week especially including the last teachings of Christ to his disciples.

Christ the Bridegroom is the central figure in the parable of the ten Virgins (Matthew 25: 1-13); Christ is the divine Bridegroom of the Church as described in the Book of Isaiah (chapter 54), as well as the primary image of Bridegroom Matins. The title is suggestive of his divine presence and watchfulness ("Behold the Bridegroom comes in the middle of the night...") during Holy Week and his selfless love for his Bride, the Church. The Christ of the Passion is the divine Bridegroom of the Church. The imagery connotes the final union of the Lover and the beloved. The title Bridegroom also suggests the Parousia. In the patristic tradition, the aforementioned parable is related to the Second Coming; and is associated with the need for spiritual vigilance and preparedness, by which we are enabled to keep the divine commandments and receive the blessings of the age to come.

The mood of the services is to experience sorrow and to feel Christ's voluntary submission to identify with His passions and reminds the responsibility of the Christians to become partakers in His redeeming work. The main emphasis of the Bridegroom Service is metanoia and each service has its own particular theme on repentance and watchfulness.

Palm Sunday Evening

During Palm Sunday Evening service, emphasis is on the picture of Christ as the coming of the Son of God to propose to the Gentile Bride - the Church. Christ is depicted in his triumphal entry as the Son of Man coming to propose and buy back mankind with his blood - the bride price. The Thursday evening brings in the climax where the cup of salvation is left on the table at the Passover meal - the last supper - on for anyone who would willingly be part of his Bride. This was the traditional mode of proposal in the Jewish tradition.

BRIDEGROOM MATINS

Holy Monday evening

On Holy Monday, Joseph, the son of Jacob the Patriarch, is commemorated and is portrayed as a prototype of Christ. Joseph was betrayed by his brothers, thrown into a pit and sold into slavery by them. In the same way, the Lord was rejected, betrayed by his own, and sold into the slavery of death and like Joseph forgave and spared his brothers during the famine when they came to him, so too, Jesus Christ offers himself as a sacrifice and forgives all those who come to him in faith.

The Gospel reading for the day is of the Barren Fig Tree, which Christ cursed and withered because it bore no fruit. The fig tree is representative of those who have heard God's word, but who fail to bear the fruits of faith. Originally the withering of the fig tree was a testimony against those Jews who rejected God's word and his Messiah. It is also a warning to all people, in all times, of the importance of not only hearing the God's word, but putting it into action.

Holy Tuesday evening

On Holy Tuesday, the Parable of the Ten Virgins is read. It tells the story of the five virgins who filled their lamps in preparation for receiving the bridegroom while the other five allowed their lamps to go out and hence were shut out of the marriage feast. This parable is a warning that Christians must always be prepared to receive the Lord when he comes again.

Holy Wednesday evening

Wednesday before Easter is sometimes known as "Spy Wednesday", as a reference to the betrayal of Jesus by Judas Iscariot, indicating that it is the day that Judas Iscariot first conspired with the Sanhedrin to betray Jesus for thirty silver coins.

CHRIST THE PASSOVER SYMBOLISM

Exodus 12

The symbolism of the Sacrifice of Jesus to that of the Sacrifice of the Passover lamb so that all those who took refuge under the blood of the lamb was passed over by the angel of death is clear. The entry of Jesus was at the same time prescribed for the lambs to be brought into the city and was through the same gate. Jesus probably followed the sacrificial lambs on the colt. The lamb was chosen on the 10th of Nissan. Just as the lamb was to be kept close to the family within their homes, Jesus was in the open with the people in Jerusalem, before he was taken for sacrifice. Then on the 14th day of Nissan the Lamb was slaughtered and its blood was put on the lintels.
